Workshop: 'In the Family'

Using the Picture-Book with Families with Sibylle Janert

The Picture-Book 'In the Family' was designed as a discussion-tool for anyone working with families, including health, education, therapeutic and social services professionals, and Voluntary Sector Workers.

It aims to

1. be accessible to parents who are not (very) literate or do not speak English well
2. address behaviour + parenting issues in young children in fun and non-threatening ways
3. empower parents and stimulate thinking through discussion with another person
4. be usable also for Teaching English as a Second Language

About this Workshop:

Experience shows that the book is not suitable to be simply handed out like a leaflet, but that the 'introducer' needs to have a basic understanding of the underlying concepts and ideas.

This Workshop aims to

1. explain the underlying ideas that led to the creation of this book
2. discuss how thinking is linked with children's behaviour-difficulties
3. develop and practice ways of using the book with families
4. empower participants to feel confident to support parents on behaviour-management
